

Camouflage press release 21-09-2015

Camouflage was just released on Google Play and Amazon!

Camouflage is a puzzle game for Android in which a chameleon has to find its way through a thorny maze and blend colour bugs to become a master of disguise!

It's a completely new and innovative concept developed by two Dutch women, the game is designed to be as easy to get into as possible, all you need to know is how colours blend!

While the beginning of the game is mostly about colourblending and finding the correct bug combination, in later levels the game evolves into more of a maze-like game where the player has to find the correct path through the obstacles.

Camouflage currently has 80 levels but I'm planning on expanding the game soon
